1.2 Support

Support for XnView and related products is provided via the XnView Forum. If you have a question, problem, suggestion, bug report or other comment, please connect to the forum and post your comment(s). The forum is regularly read by XnView developers and associates, and any questions you post will receive prompt attention from them or other members of the XnView community.

The forum also contains some FAQs regarding XnView. Please look for your issue here before posting questions to the forum.

1.3 License Agreement

You agree to the installation and use of this software (XnView, Nview, Nconvert and View2) in accordance with this licence agreement and its terms below:

- The program XnView by the author Pierre Gougelet is copyright protected.
- XnView is free of charge or freeware for private users. Commercial users must have a valid licence. Further information and prices can be found at the Register page.
- The author accepts no liability for damages which result from the use or improper use of the product, e.g. data loss, damages or losses of any kind.
- You are not allowed to amend, translate, de-compile or reverse-engineer XnView or any part thereof.
- You accept and agree to the copyrights, patents and conditions of every manufacturer and developer whose programs and algorithms are used in XnView for the writing of graphic information.

1.4 Thank you!
